This is the land of Dixie—a land of rich traditions and comfortable living. This is the land of the big fields where the cotton, corn, and peanuts grow—a place where the trumpet vine climbs the old rail fence and lifts high its head in the morning air, measuring the growth of every plant.

Through its boundaries wind the creeks and vines. It is here that the ancient water oaks and willows tell the secret of time when the negro mammy sang to sleep her master's son and dreamed of the late evening sun when she would return to her own cabin on the edge of the plantation where she lived and worked in her own little world.

Miss Anne Jeffreys, a former southern belle from Goldsboro, judged the 1962 Gohisca Queen and her Court.

Southern Belles

Miss Pat Powell, a southern belle, was escorted by Wilson Ward. Both are graduates of the class of '60 of GHS.

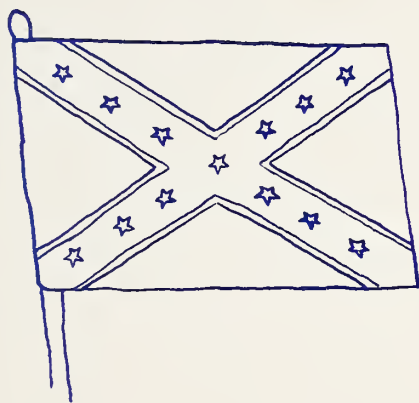

G.H.S. Students Confederate

Having been chosen as the only choral group in the state to open the Civil War Centennial, the Mixed Chorus and A Cappella Choir sang a medley of songs especially arranged for the occasion.

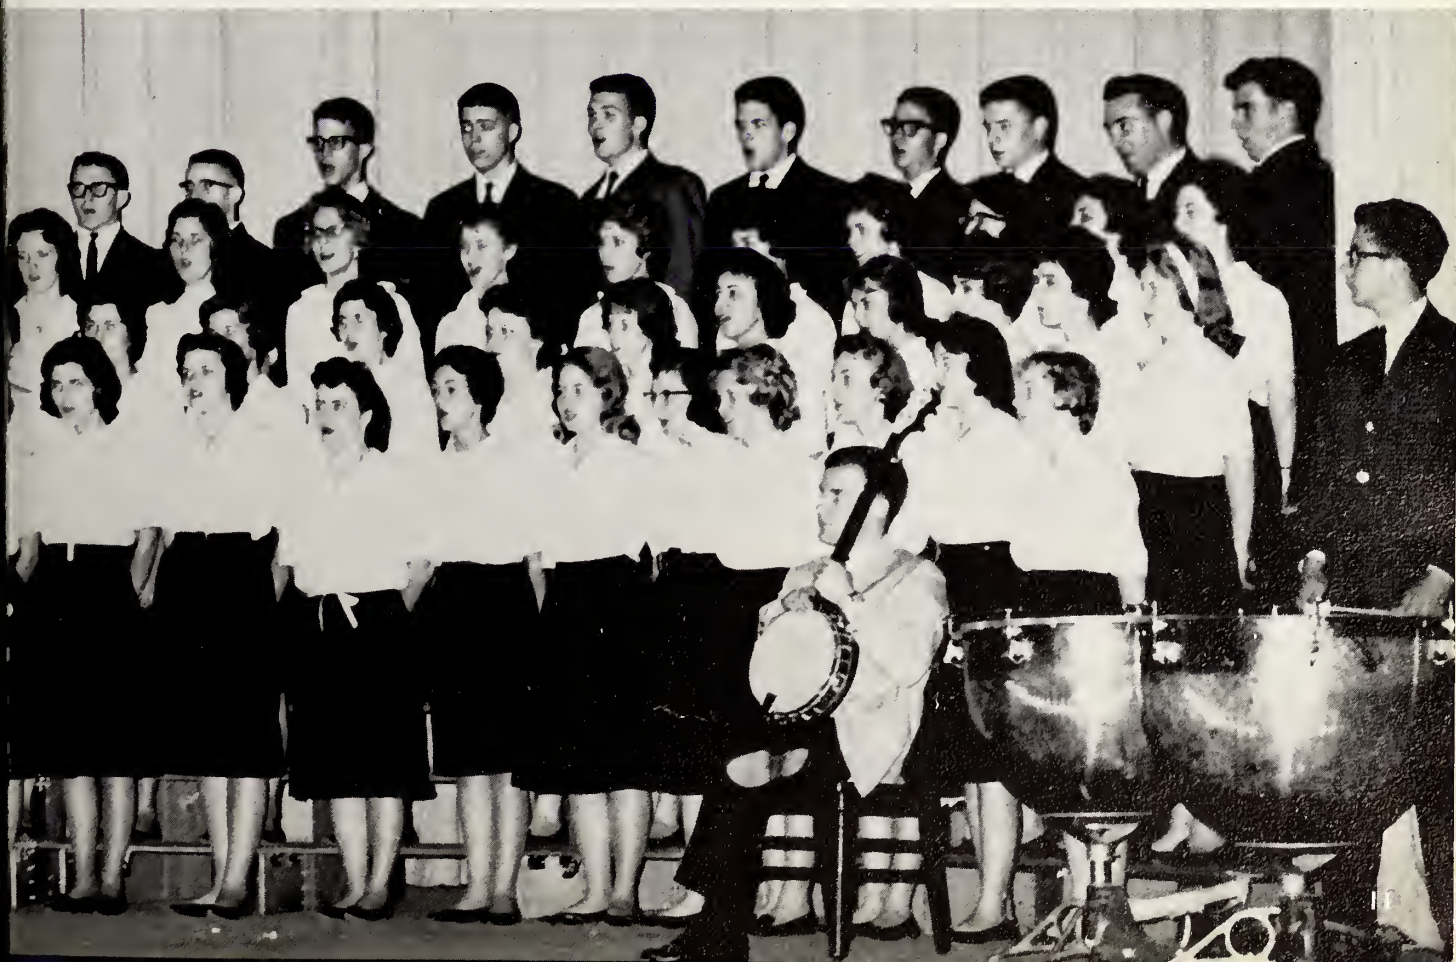

Take Part In Centennial

Among the selections in the medley were "The Bonnie Blue Flag," "Dixie," "The Rebel Soldier," "Yellow Rose of Texas," and the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Miss Nancetta Hudson, a graduate of Goldsboro High School and a former Goldmasquer, directed the play, "Major Jones' Courtship," at the pageant.

May we always remain loyal to the traditions that the flag of the Southland gave us.

Connections - Connections at Wilmington with Wilmington & Manchester Rail Road, for points South and West; at Goldsboro with North Carolina Rail Road; and at Weldon with Seaboard & Roanoke Rail Road, Petersburg Rail Road, and Raleigh & Gaston Rail Road.

Goldsboro, N. C., two miles from Neuse river, which is navigable for light draft vessels to this point, was at one time taken possession of by the enemy, but it was soon retaken. At another time a force of ten thousand strong approached the town, both by land and water, and succeeded in getting near enough to the railroad bridge with their gun boats to burn it. A fierce battle ensued, and the enemy were routed.

Weldon, N. C., on both sides of Roanoke river, at the head of navigation, is a noted railroad centre.

Years Ago

"Vennecei," was the home of William Carraway. This was a typical home of the period.

This scene pictures the first Wayne County Court House.

This building was used for a hospital during the Civil War. Before the war it had been the Wayne Female College.

King Cotton

Cotton is no longer king but it still reigns as a prince. Tobacco has taken over king in our part of Dixie.

Those days of once-upon-a-time have not been left behind forever. The South of old is still an Eden land of the imagination, rich in memory, sentiment and sadness.

Our present is haunted by the ghosts of the past and our todays are yet happily entangled with our yesterdays. We still live under the inspiration of those who have gone before. Our old Southland celebrated in history and romance will forever remain an inspiration to our new South, our today.

As we look to the future, we carry the responsibility of noblesse oblige, the obligation of carrying on a great tradition.

Mrs. Nadine R. Howell

Dedication

For all your help given so freely,
For your friendly smile, unshakeable patience,
and your lasting devotion—
For this we thank you.

In the future years as we look back to our high school days at GHS, we shall remember fondly you, Mrs. Nadine R. Howell.

For these sterling attributes and many others not named but daily practiced, we proudly dedicate to you the nineteen hundred and sixty-two GOHISCA.

Sending out transcripts of grades to colleges is her way of helping the seniors to get in the college of their choice.

Mrs. Howell is continually assisting Mr. Twiford with the administrative duties at Goldsboro High.

Writing out admit slips is only one of the many ways Mrs. Howell helps the students.

Administration

Goldsboro City Schools Administration

Dr. N. H. Shope

Superintendent

With quality education as his goal, Dr. Shope is constantly striving to supply our schools with the best teachers and facilities. Though he has held this position only two years he has made strides in the improvement of Goldsboro's City Schools.

A graduate of Otterbein College, Dr. Shope went on to receive his Master's Degree and Doctor's Degree at the University of North Carolina.

Mr. Henry Cole

Administrative Assistant

Filling the office of the Administrative Assistant is Mr. Henry Cole. Besides lightening the burdens of Dr. Shope, there are endless duties of his own to be performed. Before assuming his present position, Mr. Cole taught at Goldsboro Junior High School.

Miss Cathy Stover

Competence and a willingness to work are only two requisites for being Secretary to the Superintendent. Miss Stover has been fulfilling the requirements of this position for a year.

Mrs. Bessie P. Coalson

Being in charge of all the city school cafeterias is no easy task. Mrs. Coalson has been managing them since 1960.

Miss Elizabeth Bordeaux

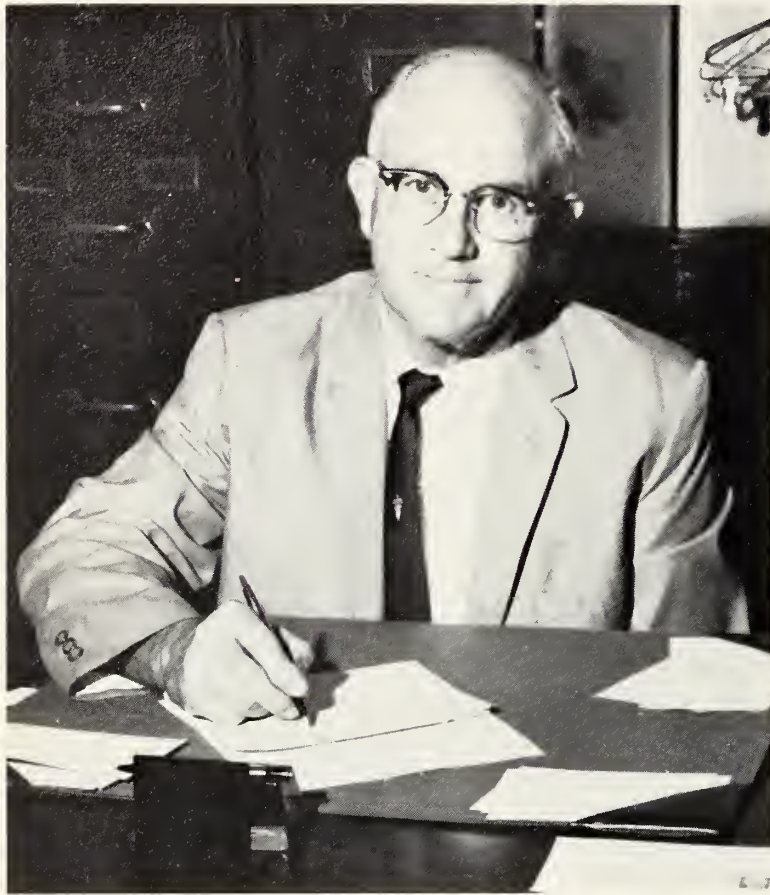

Handling countless duties as Special Education Supervisor, Miss Bordeaux is always busy. She is continually looking for ways to improve our school system.

Mrs. Virginia Holzkamm

Besides taking minutes, typing and doing innumerable other tasks, Mrs. Holzkamm also serves as treasurer for Goldsboro City Schools.

Goldsboro Senior High School Administration

Mr. C. W. Twiford

Principal

We are fortunate to have Mr. C. W. Twiford as our principal. Mr. Twiford is more than a principal. A friend to all who need one, he is always willing to give assistance to those who request it.

Popular with all the students, Mr. Twiford's presence before an assembly never fails to bring a hearty round of applause. Maintaining his faith in youth, he supports our efforts, successful or unsuccessful. He is present at each game and outdoes the cheerleaders in yelling for the team.

Frequently we hear these well known words: "If you can't cooperate, we don't want you." Most of us cooperate.

Mrs. Ella Rich

With the backbreaking task of preparing lunch for hundreds of ravenous teenagers, Mrs. Rich's best efforts go into making the lunchroom more pleasant.

Mrs. Nadine Howell

Teachers and students all agree that Mrs. Howell plays a large part in holding the school together. Besides being Mr. Twiford's secretary, she also manages the office.

Goldsboro Board of Education

Mr. Lloyd Fonville
Chairman

Goldsboro Graded School's Board of Education plays a significant part in the administration of Goldsboro High School. No matter what the situation, the best for Goldsboro is utmost in the minds of the ladies and gentlemen who constitute this school board.

The school board meets regularly each month. At these meetings the board members discuss, consider and act upon matters pertinent to the education of the students in the city of Goldsboro.

These men and women have contributed greatly to the educational facilities of our school.

The Aid to Better Living Is Through Good Physical Health

The aim of the Physical Education Department is to teach students the importance of keeping the body in good condition. By keeping oneself physically fit, good health is promoted. In this department, the student learns the skills needed in various sports and he also learns sportsmanship.

The sports conducted by Mr. Lee are tennis, soccer, basketball, football, and softball.

Science

The key to success lies in the comprehension of the task one undertakes. Our Science Department deals mainly with this principle in mind. It therefore seeks to plant an enlightenment on the basic elements to our problems of today. Goldsboro High School excels in the instruction of the many fields of science. It thoroughly covers each branch.

This Department consists of Physics, taught by Mr. Markham; Biology, taught by Miss Jones, Mrs. Lewis, and Mrs. Gillikin; and Chemistry, taught by Mrs. Gillikin and Mr. Markham.

Miss Jones keeps her biology students on their toes. Here, they are busy labeling their various leaves.

To do so, our guidance instructor, Miss Kornegay, is available during the day to talk with students who so desire. She helps students with any problems which might arise during the course of their high school days. Miss Kornegay is very helpful in discussing plans for the future and directing the confused student down the right path.

Books are records of what people think, do, see, and experience; records of what happens throughout the world.

The library has library assistants, a library committee, and a Library Club, to help students use and enjoy the facilities for recreational reading as well as for gaining new factual knowledge.

Mrs. Ruth Riley Shine

When you come to the end of a perfect day,
And you sit alone with your thought,
While the chimes ring out with a carol gay,
For the joy that the day has brought,
Do you think what the end of a perfect day
Can mean to a tired heart,
When the sun goes down with a flaming ray
And the dear friends have to part.

Activities

One of the high spots on the night of Stunt Night is the recognition and crowning of King and Queen. Tommy Franklin and Migeon Helms took the limelight in the picture above.

Annual Stunt Night

Stunt Night began in 1950. The first year, about $200 was raised. Every year this event has grown, and in the spring of 1961 almost $4,850 was raised.

Each class, last year, presented a stunt and these were graded on participation, neatness of scenery, and the plot of the stunt. The class that sold the most tickets won the middle seats, and each class worked by selling kleenex, candy, and light bulbs in order to support its King and Queen representatives.

Stunt Night 1961 was won by the Class of 1962. Second place went to the Class of 1963.

Drive Successful

The Class of 1963 took the audience back to the days of Julius Caesar.

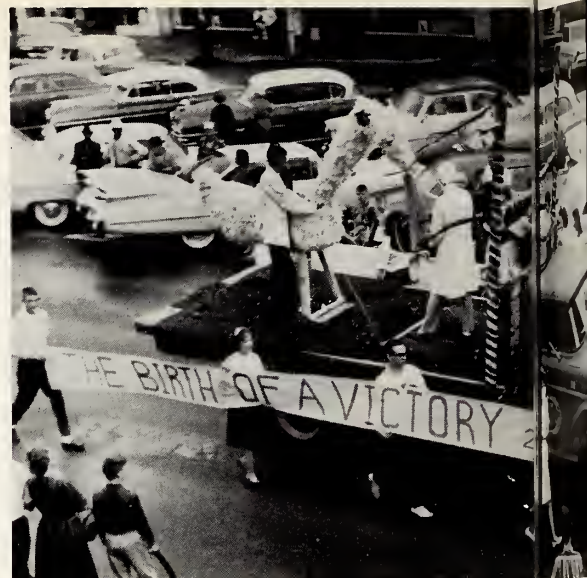

The Class of 1961 turned back the clock to those wonderful days of the "Roaring 20's," complete with the Charleston and Al Jolson.

Many familiar faces were seen as the Class of 1962 gave the crowd a tour of a wax museum. The tour was so successful that it was judged the winning stunt.

One of the high spots of that memorable weekend was the fountain sitting in the middle of the dance floor.

May 5, 1961 was a night to remember. It was on this night that the Class of '62 entertained the Class of '61 at the traditional reception and dance, the Junior-Senior. As the guests entered the gym, they felt that they had been taken to a land "over the rainbow." The band, the Five Carolina Gentlemen, was wonderful as was the food.

The fun did not end at twelve o'clock, however. The gaiety and excitement continued throughout the entire week-end, for everyone headed for the beach.

Many hours were spent building the pink castle in the air.

Pastel umbrellas and ivy lined the stairways to that mystic land.

Dixie

Dixie Land or Dixie, as it is generally called, the most popular song of the South, was written by Daniel D. Emmett, of Ohio. In 1859, Mr. Emmett was a member of "Bryant's Minstrels," then playing in New York City. One Saturday evening he was asked by Mr. Bryant to furnish a new song to be used in the performance the following week. On Monday morning, Mr. Emmett took to the rehearsal the words and music of Dixie. The song soon became the favorite of all over the land. In 1860, an entertainment was given in New Orleans. The leader had some difficulty in selecting a march for his chorus. After trying several he decided upon Dixie. It was taken up by the people, some upon the streets and some carried to the battlefields where it became the great inspiration song of the Confederate Army.

Many different words were written to the tune. Those by Albert Pike, of Arkansas, were much used and are perhaps the most worthy of mention.

Yet it stored the hearts of those who fought for the "Flag of Dixie." Today, in the midst of these two wars, there where the tread of a united people whose hearts are moved alike by the stirring strains, and who as they listen are ready to say with uplifted hands, hallelujah and reverent lips, "We give our heads and our hearts to God, and our Country."

Organizations

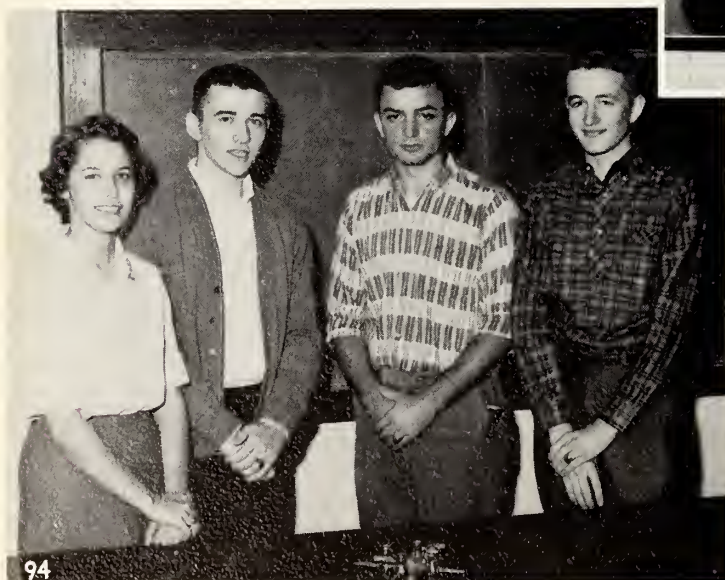

Students See Demonstrations

The purpose of the Science Club is to promote interest in science. Membership is open to all students who indicate an interest in this field. Meetings usually include fascinating demonstrations or lectures by the advisor.

OFFICERS: President, Tommy Farmer, Vice-President, Frank Dumas; Secretary, LaDonna Miller; Treasurer, Jim Dugan.

Students show that there is great fun in science.

Club Proves Success

The Spanish Club of Goldsboro High School is now in its second year. All of the hopes for success came true. The club is now planning many activities under the guidance of capable leaders. With so many interested members the club is destined to become one of the best clubs in the school.

Pepe Conti, our foreign exchange student, points out his home to two friends.

OFFICERS: President, Susan Sasser; Vice-President, Gail Edwards; Secretary, Corinne Bridgewater; Treasurer, Dot Reese.

Spanish Club

Diversified Occupation Club

OFFICERS: President, Gary Taylor; Vice-President, Lounes Blackmon; Secretary, Charles Stafford; Treasurer, Johnny Head.

The Diversified Occupations program guides and directs boys in their vocational training. The Diversified Occupations Club is composed of these boys.

Under the guidance of Mr. McRoy, their advisor, these boys prepare for their future work.

Students Prepare for Future

Club Produces Capable Workers

OFFICERS: President, Johnny Faircloth; Vice-President, Judy Brough; As. Pres, Joe Nassef; Secretary, Margaret Brock; Treasurer, Nancy Moore; Editor Promotion, Ethel Keel; Parliamentarian, Wanda Grady.

Distributive Education Club

Many students pass through the Distributive Education Club every year. Goldsboro High School has produced several hundred capable workers since the club's beginning in 1939.

In November interested students attended the Distributive Education State Meeting.

Joyce Starling is shown being instructed in her field of work.

Club Plans Varied Projects

OFFICERS: President, Brenda Mantooth; Vice-President, Gale Wilson; Secretary, Harriet Vinson; Treasurer, Jimmy Creech; Advisor, Miss Peele.

The French Club has many Projects planned for this school year. A money-making project is top on the agenda with several others to follow.

These projects will be climaxed in the spring with the annual French banquet.

From its start in 1947, the French club has been one of the more active clubs in our school.

Students find enjoyment in reading French magazines.

Le Cercle Francais

Latin Club

The Latin Club has had great success in its fourteen years of organization. Many projects of interest to Latin students have been undertaken through the years. This year is no exception. Latin students have planned to list the Latin books which are in the school library. This will be followed by the reading of many of them.

In the spring a "slave sale" banquet will be held to end the year.

OFFICERS: President, Bonnie Noel; Vice-President, Phyllis Helms; Secretary, Susan Self; Treasurer, Ann Ward; Advisor, Miss Simpson.

One of the many activities of the Latin Club is its annual banquet.

Members Plan Reorganization

The Library Club has risen in prominence in the last few years. Goldsboro High School has been privileged to have a state president and also a state reporter from our school.

With the fine help of its new advisor, Mrs. Getsinger, the Library Club plans to rise to even greater heights this year.

Among the many projects undertaken by the club this year is the great job of re-organization.

OFFICERS: President, Martha Peterson; Vice-President, Susan Boyette; Secretary, Veanna Geisler; Treasurer, Mary Margaret Hooks; Advisor, Mrs. Getsinger.

Mending books is a hard job for the Library Club members, but an enjoyable one.

The annual Mother-Daughter Banquet is the highlight of the year for the Future Homemakers of America. The girls who participate in the club spend much time and hard work in its preparation.

As in years past, the club will send representatives to the district and state meetings.

Instruction Is Given

Students receive instruction on the use of slide rules.

The purpose of the Math Club is to promote a greater understanding of mathematical concepts among its members. Membership is limited to those students having an aptitude for advanced algebra and higher mathematics. Topics for discussion are of general interest, and usually they are suggested by the club's members.

OFFICERS: President, Dicky Baddour; Vice-President, Sally Raulston; Secretary, Pam Pearson; Treasurer, John Parker.

The work of the S. A. cannot be done by the advisory board alone. Every year the S. A. sponsors committees which plan the extra-curricular activities of the student body. Because the S. A. is composed of the students, they are invited to join the committees of their choice at the beginning of each year. Headed by able chairmen, the committees offer a wide choice of activities in which the student may become active. Everyone, therefore, should be able to find a place in the Student Association.

Goldmasquers

Our Diary

I Remember . . .

"Marching Men" was the Goldmasquers first championship play. We went to Chapel Hill on "black market gas."

"Gold in the Hills"

Since the main plot line was left out, the money was lost forever.

"Smilin' Through"

For this play the stage crew designed the Goldmasquer's first big setting.

"Land is Bright"

This was the first of many successful plays to run three nights.

"The Willow and I"
The memory of a gunshot gave the Goldmasquers their first leading lady.

The famous Goldmasquers were the first in the nation to have a radio workshop built entirely by the students.

This setting for "Teach Me How To Cry" is typical of the Goldmasquers technical work through the twenty years. Decor, color, and lighting are expert.

"The Charles B. Aycock Story"
The historical story of Wayne County's favorite son.

"The Shepherd's Story"
Abner sees the Christ Child.

"Pate Signig"
This was the first attempt of the Goldmasquers to produce a Bernice Harris show.

"The Curious Savage"
Over the rainbow lies the happiness of the "curious savage."

"Angel Street"
This production belongs in the Goldmasquers
"Hall of Fame."

"Eight Iron Men"
This was our first great war show.

"Guinea Pig"
A great state
winner.

"Snow White"
The Queen
mounts her throne.

"Dino" The Goldmasquers' Best.

"Room Full of Roses"

"God's Test Tube"
Man throws his atomic bomb.

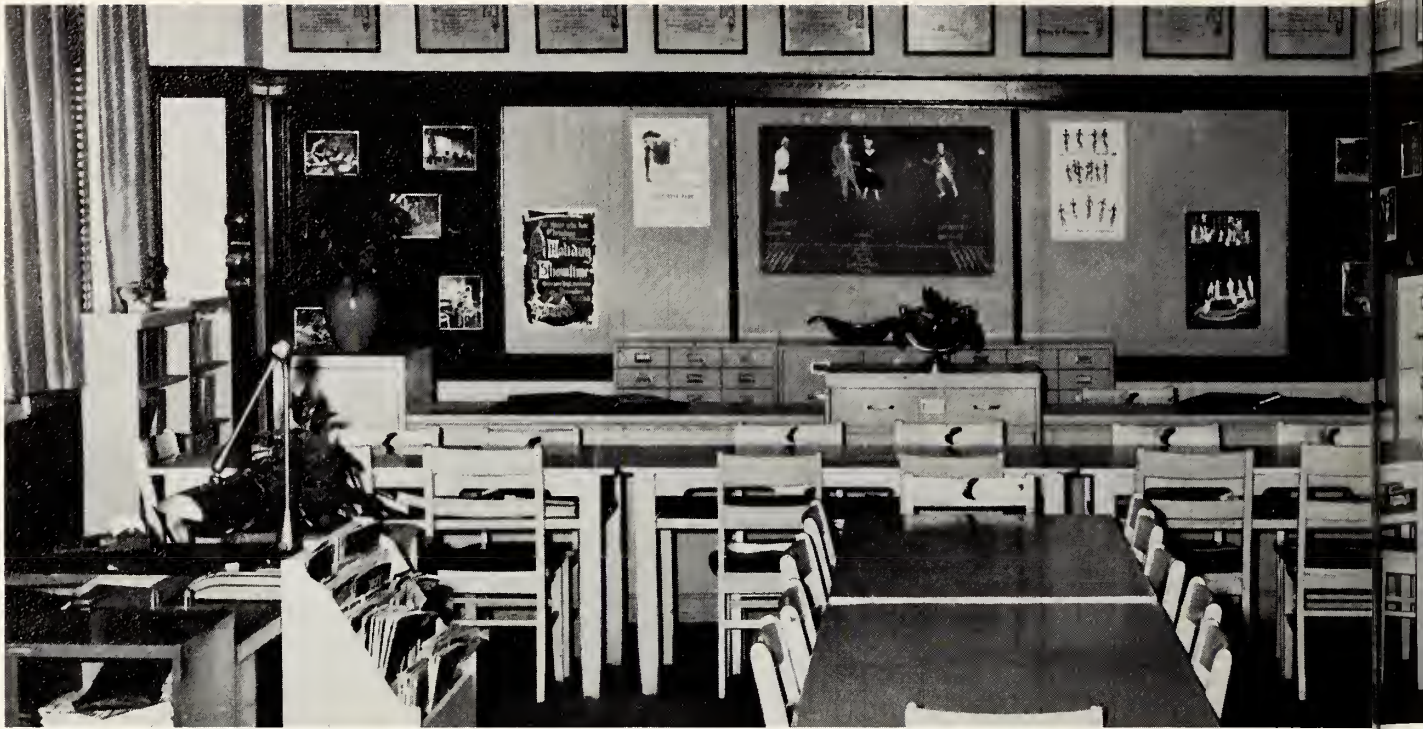

"Toward's Zero"
A tense moment!

"Teach Me How to Cry"
This scene portrays a tender moment.

"The Hasty Heart"
This play opened the Goldmasquers 20th Season.

The heart of the Goldmasquers lies in the place of its beginning, Room 216. This room is known nation-wide as "the home of the Goldmasquers."

We will always remember the Goldmasquer officers of 1961-1962. They are known as "the anniversary officers." Those serving are as follows:

President: Wesley Turnage
Vice-President: Linda Buckner
Point Secretary: Carolyn Love
Recording Secretary: Corinne Bridgewater
Co-Business Managers: Fran Garriss and Jimmy Southerland

IN THE BEGINNING

In the beginning there were those that said the Goldmasquers would only live about five years. They have outlived this prediction by fifteen years. With the celebration of the 20th Anniversary, 5,000 people have passed through the department; each one leaving his own contribution. Such constitutes a great heritage, which could only happen in America. The Goldmasquers carry the title of "the South's outstanding theatre for youth." Goldmasquers is more than a name, it's more than a play; it's a way of life for many. We have stood at the altar of those getting married and rejoiced in their happiness. We have stood by the graveside and given our sympathy to those who have needed us. Goldmasquers have filled the gap in many a young person's life.

On this the 20th Anniversary, that which is good must continue to live; and that which is bad must pass away. And we will live as long as there is breath in the body of a Goldmasquer. We hope hundreds more will pass our way.

Mr. Clifton Briton is our director, founder, and friend. We can fondly call him "the father of the "Goldmasquers." We all know him as Mr. "B."

Five Thousand Have Passed My Way

By Clifton Britton

According to the records, I have taught approximately five thousand young men and women during the past nineteen years. They all passed my way through the Department of Dramatic and Radio Arts. The majority of them were looking for something—their eyes were in search of something that would identify them with the world—their minds were in search of something that would enrich their lives.

Many wanted to tear down the barriers of timidity that held such a tight grip on their freedom of expression. Others wanted to be a part of something that would introduce them to new friends, open new areas of participation and find a place where they were wanted. There were some who found a home within the walls of this school, and as they worked, they grew in stature and wisdom. They stand like giants today as a tribute to the "South's Outstanding Theatre for Youth." Each day their lives unfold some of the values they learned while building scenery, making a costume or playing the role of a king. The true beauty of the theatre never washes out of their blood. The hand of approval (the applause) or such words from patrons as, "You did well," or "I never dreamed you could do that," and the soft proud words of parents as they smile and say, "We are so proud!" are more valuable to the boys' growth than all the wealth of the world. These words encourage ambition, give sunshine to happiness, and spark the bud of hope to open into a beautiful flower, casting its beauty around and about them.

To feed these five thousand students with the knowledge they were in search of has taken hundreds of hours of preparation and rehearsals. The Goldmasquers have produced over one hundred and fifteen three-act plays and forty-four one-act plays. One hundred and forty-eight sets have dressed the stage, approximately one thousand seven hundred and twenty-five young actors have had their excursion behind the footlights while two thousand and six hundred have hovered in the side wings or stood above them on the Cat-Walk and have given their talents to the total success of the production.

I have heard their cries in the night as they come from broken homes, asking, "Who am I?" and "What am I doing on this earth?" In moments of relaxation they have expressed their wishes and concern of the future. Some were so afraid of that vast space called the world because parents had failed to give them the security to face life. Others pressed on with a great determination to be successful, despite their hardships. I have stood in their shadows and have admired their efforts. Some have become doctors, lawyers, radio technicians, TV personalities, artists, and good honest American citizens—that I call, "The Salt of the Earth."

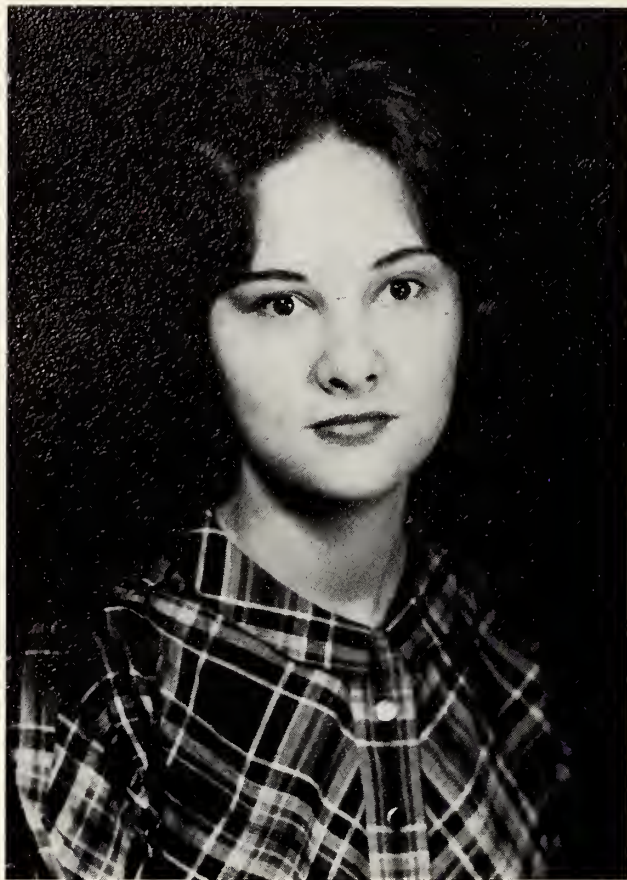

These nineteen years have been filled with rich experiences. I have met some wonderful boys and girls who have become my friends for life.

I have been privileged to observe my first students climb the ladder to success. It is rewarding to see them take their places in this complex and fast moving world and know they have the strength to endure. I have asked for long hard hours under strict regulations, for I knew the world did not owe them anything—but that they owed the world a rich and fruitful life. They were taught not to cry and whine, but to charge ahead and to master life. The spoiled and sheltered were asked to put away their "baby clothes" and become men and women worthy of their name. The unfortunate and poor were reminded that they had a great heritage in life and they were encouraged to seek its richest blessings from the hand of God, who places no distinction on His creation. Those who possessed great talents were taught to be humble for they were fortunate.

Goldmasquers is more than a name. It is a spirit that stands for the five thousand who have passed my way. May God bless them!

The Gohisca is published by a select group of students chosen from the senior, junior, and sophomore classes. Through their work on the annual, these students gain valuable experience relating to layout and design, composition, and personal contact with the business world. In addition, staff members learn what a deadline really means and how to meet one properly. Not only do students learn how to work with the business public, but they also learn better how to work with each other.

News

Important training is accomplished through cooperation with staff members, students, parents and administrators, as well as the printer, engraver, local advertisers and community leaders. Additional benefits coming to the journalistic students are: development of the need of accuracy, the ability to meet a deadline, the necessity of coordination of efforts, and the development of a more alert newspaper reader.

Everyone in the Journalism class acts as a reporter. Each reporter is given a beat and assigned certain stories to write.

The staff of the Hi-News not only publishes our school paper; it also runs the Hi-News Shop. Paper and school supplies are sold in the shop. This facility is a tremendous help to the students who need a pencil or a pack of paper.

Varsity Club

With the main objective of promoting sportsmanship at athletic events, the Varsity Club is composed of boys who have earned a letter in a major sport and have been voted in by the other members. The organization has and upholds many high ideals and does not tolerate poor conduct on the part of its members.

The organization sponsors the selling of concessions at the basketball games, the Varsity Club Sweetheart, and the Dance in the Spring, which honors the Sweetheart. The Varsity Sweetheart is crowned during colorful half-time ceremonies during the annual Homecoming game. She is featured in the Features Section of this book.

Varsity Club Prayer

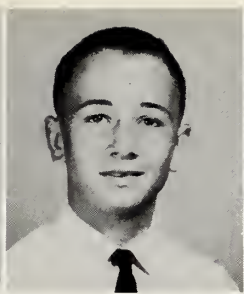

When the score stands against me and there seems little chance to win, when there is a whole half to play and I am hot and tired and sick at heart; then I pray, Divine Comrade, for strength to play the game. It is easy enough to play when I am winning, when I feel fresh and there are no odds against me; but when things are going wrong and I am tempted to cheat, to gamble, or to quit, then I need Thy help. I want to take life as a game and play it fair and hard. To do this, I need some strong leader, so I pray that Thou art always with me. When I am cowardly or tired, or baffled, give me the sense that Thou art by my side, telling me how to plan my way and giving me the courage to keep on. Be with me in the contests of today and all through life's courses. Amen.

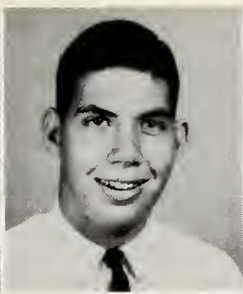

Miss Jenny Seymour was crowned Varsity Club Sweetheart at our homecoming game this year by Vickie O'Tuel, Sweetheart of 1960-'61.

SENIOR CLASS SONG

The Seniors of Goldsboro High School are we:
Our class we'll remember where'er we may be
To our dear school we will always be true
We'll strive to do right in whatever we do
The Seniors are singing
Our song we are bringing
To Goldsboro High School
The first and the best
To do our best then better
Is what we will endeavor
We hope the class of '62
Will stand o'er the rest.

There is nothing like a game!

There's always room for one more.

CLASS MOTTO
Seek for the good and cherish it.

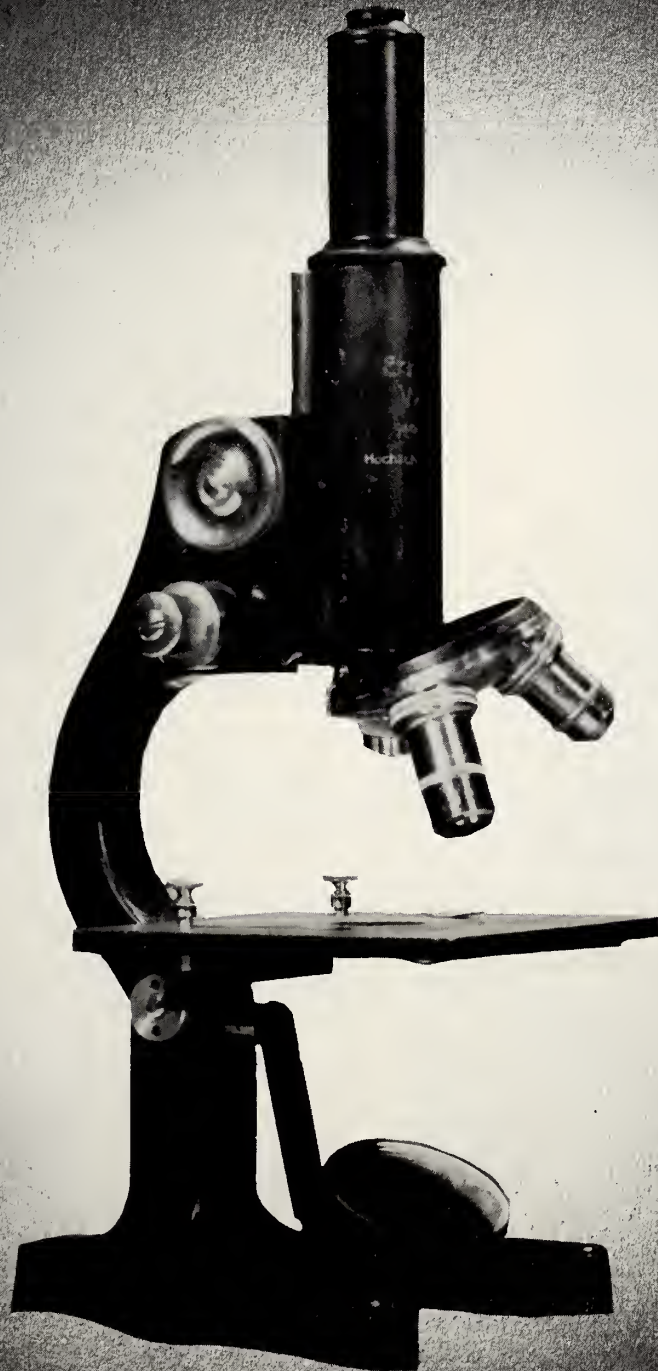

Life is not all downhill, but most of the way for these Juniors.

JUNIOR CLASS SONG

May we always stand together
In the future now unseen
Our aim, to give our all
As on God our hope will lean.
To our colors, white and purple
Our allegiance we shall give
In the guidance of our motto
We shall always try to live.

Someday the class will part
But ever in our hearts
Remains the memories of yesterday,
And through the passing years
And these our thoughts revere
In spirit we will never go astray.
May we meet each task before us
As firm our steps will be
The best in life will open
To the class of sixty-three.

"Oh, I can't wait until it is time to dissect . . ."
Yes, sophomores are constantly busy with biology projects, such as collecting insects and leaves.

SOPHOMORE CLASS SONG

We will stand together
Class of '64
High school days can show us
What we have in store.
Success will surely come to us
Each will do his share
What we do and learn here
We'll carry everywhere.

Striving for perfection
Proud of this our school
Pledging hearts and hands
This we make our rule.
God above, will guide us
Now and evermore
We will stand united
Class of '64.

Colors: Gold and Green

Flower: Pom pom Chrysanthemum

Motto: The higher we climb, the broader the view.
